Hannah is an attorney in the firm's Commercial Litigation and Labor & Employment Practice Groups. Driven by creativity, attention to detail, and a commitment to client service, Hannah skillfully navigates litigation matters in a variety of focus areas, from business to commercial and more.

Hannah initially joined the firm as a summer associate, then served as a law clerk before passing the Maryland bar and becoming an attorney. During law school, Hannah was a judicial intern for Judge Robert R. Thompson in the Circuit Court for Anne Arundel County. She also served as a student attorney for the Justice for Victims of Crime Legal Clinic.

Outside of work, Hannah enjoys spending time outdoors, being with friends, and exploring new restaurants in Baltimore.
